Relentless Monster Waves!!

great action, purchased tanya range attacker, worth the $5. glad to support this developer.. \ub9c8\uce58 \uccb4\ud5d8\ud310\uc744 \ub3c8\uc8fc\uace0 \uc0b0 \ub290\ub08c\uc774\ub124\uc694. \uba8\ubc14\uc77c\ubc84\uc804\ub9cc \uc0dd\uac01\ud558\uace0 \uc0c0\ub354\ub2c8 \ubcf4\uc2a4\ub9cc \uc81c\uc678\ud558\uace4 \ucd08\ucc3d\uae30 \ub4dc\ub798\uace4\uc2a4\ud53c\uc5b4.

Feels like I bought a beta version game. It should have been supposed to have all the contents that mobile version had.. Excellent game in the vein of Streets of Rage and Dragon's Crown with great art style, many different characters with their own flair and unique movesets and abilities and a lot of different gear that makes your character stronger and also change their appearance. This is a pretty great action game.. amazing artwork, brilliant tracks, trash as a former mobile game if you wanna profit, at least put some efforts for your buyers. They weren't being subtle here.

Fairly well executed clone of Dragons crown.

The combat system is clearly devised with mobile devices in mind, but in my opinion, doesn't suffer for it. It is based around use of skills and timing. Each class of character has a unique style and I have enjoyed them all. (Particularly the Sorceress and the gunfighter)

Each class of character can unlock new skills and gear as they progress, complete with a decent crafting system.

The story consists of 80 levels, and is replayable with each class of character.

In addition to the story each act has its own "Abyss" level, which is basically a raid boss. You can fight these by yourself, which will prove challenging at the suggested minimum level, or you can fight them with up to three other players in Co-op matches. If you choose, you can run raid levels with people from your friends list, or you can select random raid matching, play every randomized level with a group of strangers, and earn extra currency for cosmetics.

Side scrolling levels with a variety of enemies and bosses.

I wasn't joking when I said that this was a Dragon's Crown clone, the sprite based animation looks great, the characters are all gorgeous, men and women alike..

...and yes, most of the women in the game, including NPC'S and enemies, have huge, gorgeous, bouncy breasts. Which is AWESOME.

There are a few issues, the interface is a bit clunky, with odd button choices if you are playing with a controller, however, I think you can rebind this to your taste. (I made a custom Steam Controller profile, and added a few mouse features, works nicely.)

Because I think that the initial version of this game was a mobile port, it doesn't have any voice acting, the sound effects of Music are well done, but all character dialogue is text only.

the graphics options are limited, once again because of the games mobile Roots, but there are very few occasions when this will be noticeable, I noticed a bit of pixelation on the title screen as you scroll through characters, because it was clearly rendered at a lower resolution than the 1080p monitor I'm playing on, 720 would be my guess.

So if you're looking for the closest you'll get to Dragon's Crown on Steam, this is it. And enjoyable beat 'em up just like in the good old days.

I would also recommend checking out the game "The Vagrant"... I feel like it gets even closer to the spirit of Dragon's Crown than this game does, but it's clearly a smaller-scale project, with only a single character to play... but it does feel even more like Vanillaware than DS.

Three cheers for Brawling and B00BS.

PS - the random raid matching is pretty addictive and great fun. A perfect way to get OP for the story levels and earn some extra swag.

I really wish the level cap and gear options went even further, even so, there are many cosmetic options for player to unlock, and you can even assign any outfit you have unlocked to cosmetics, no matter what actual gear you have.

For those who are interested, I am fairly sure there is a thread on Lvrs Lab. ;) to get even more TITillation.. Keeps going right with my Razer Tartarus controller plugged in. There not broken I tried to restart, replug in and test it on other games no problem. Fix this annoying configuration problem please.
